Our Offices Move Thursday

Relocation of the offices and production plant of the Amphlett Printing Co. publications that serve the North County will start Thursday morning.

The firm is moving all of its personnel and equipment into larger quarters at 1331 San Mateo Ave., South San Francisco, near the San Bruno city limits.

Effective Friday there will be different telephone numbers for the various departments of the newspapers — the San Bruno Herald, the Daly City Herald, the Recorder-Progress, the Coastside Chronicle and the North County Post.

But the mailing address — Post Office Box 248, San Bruno 94066 — will be unchanged.

The new departmental numbers:
Circulation: 952-1295
News: 952-4105
Display advertising: 952-4114
Want Ads: 952-4111
All other departments: 952-4102

The present number, 589-1234, may be used through most of Thursday to reach all departments.

The relocated offices also will continue to serve as the North County news bureau of the San Mateo Times, Amphlett's afternoon daily newspaper.

Rehabilitation Program

Citizens Lack Confidence, DC Proponents Say

By NANCY STANCILL

In an emotion-laden City Council meeting Monday night, two frequent critics of Daly City's housing rehabilitation program charged that conflict between the city's consultant and in-house staff is causing residents to lose confidence in the city's efforts.

Conrad Pavellas and Ernie Pezzola, directors of the Original Daly City Protective Association and rehabilitation advocates, singled out Councilman Albert Teglia, City Attorney Albert Polonsky and rehabilitation loan officer Barbara Hill in criticizing the city's handling of the federally funded program.

Pezzola, who said the ODCPA generated more than half of about 95 applications from residents in the older part of the city, charged that some applicants became discouraged with waiting and dropped out.

"The staff is trying to enforce unrealistic standards on Daly City to hold rehabilitation back," Pavellas contended.

Pavellas and Pezzola resigned from the city's Rehabilitation Advisory Committee shortly before the program officially went into effect last November. They said then that Polonsky had started a policy that has caused the staff to be unresponsive to citizens.

The policy, that only one committee member deal directly with city rehabilitation staff, has been detrimental to the program, they charged.

The start of Monday's council meeting was delayed for 30 minutes while Mayor William Schumacher and Councilman Victor Kyriakis met privately with several staffers, consultant Ward Connerly and several members of the Rehabilitation Advisory Committee.

As the gathering marched in, grim-faced, to begin the belated council meeting, Schumacher acknowledged that there had been some "difficulties" in the past few days with the program. He requested that Connerly, of Ward Connerly and Associates, give a brief report.

"We have had difficulties of varying sorts," Connerly conceded. "We're wrestling with some gut issues, but rehabilitation is alive and well in Daly City."

Questioned after the meeting, Connerly said a communication gap involving the new regulations from the Department of Housing and Urban Development developed recently between the consultant and the city rehabilitation staff.

Connerly said he explained the just-released HUD 312 program regulations to a rehabilitation workshop April 15 by the ODCPA. He said his explanation generated a letter from Community Development Director Don Fleming, who protested that Connerly had not notified the city staff of the changes.

The consultant said he took exception to the "pointed" tone of Fleming's letter and fired off a letter of explanation in reply.

Fleming, when questioned, said he mistakenly believed that Connerly had withheld the new information, but later found otherwise. Fleming said he then apologized to the consultant.

"The whole thing has been blown out of proportion," Fleming said.

The community development director conceded that he, Polonsky and Miss Hill have not studied the new regulations in depth, which Connerly told the council "will remove some obstacles from the program."

Connerly said the new regulations will allow program operators to negotiate with contractors, rather than use competitive bids, will allow liberalized work forms and will do away with the use of some federal forms.

He also noted that the new standards will allow

Shot on SSF Welfare Case Call

Officer's Condition OK

South San Francisco Police Officer Ron Barranti, shot twice while assisting two social workers at a home in Winston Manor Friday, was in satisfactory condition at Kaiser Hospital in South San Francisco today.

But he may not go back to work for a year.

Barranti, 36, an 11-year veteran with the department, was shot in the knee and left arm at 28 Elkwood Drive with a .357 Magnum revolver, allegedly by the man the social workers had gone to see.

Barranti was rushed to surgery at Kaiser, where it was found that one bullet had gone through his arm and entered the left leg, shattering it, according to Lt. Jim Kuskie. Surgeons also removed the left kneecap, Kuskie said.

Latest reports from the hospital now are that Barranti may need reconstructive surgery on the leg in perhaps a month, Kuskie said. The only visitors he's been allowed to see so far are his family. Barranti has a wife and three children.

The suspect, Romeo Herndon Goto, 28, an unemployed kitchen worker, underwent extensive interviews with a psychiatrist late Friday, in an attempt to shed some light on the shooting.

Goto, who resided at the Elkwood Drive home, is to be charged with attempted murder, assault with a deadly weapon on a police officer and discharging a weapon into an inhabited dwelling, police said.

The shooting occurred at about 9:15 a.m. Friday as Barranti and officers Mike Guglielmoni and Charles DeSoto accompanied Mrs. Rhoda Rhea of the North County Mental Health Center and Ms. Portia Batista of the San Mateo County Social Services Department to the home.

After the shooting, police converged on the scene and cordoned off the area.

Goto allegedly kept at least 50 police officers at bay until his surrender just before 11 a.m. The county sheriff's office and San Bruno, Burlingame and Colma police departments lent assistance, while Daly City police stood by if needed, Kuskie said.

Arraignment for the suspect is expected to be scheduled for Monday morning at the Northern Judicial District Municipal Court in South San Francisco, according to police.

Dr. Don Visher, acting director of the North County Mental Health Center, said the visit was a "crisis call," but declined to elaborate further.

Mrs. Rhea is a social worker assigned to Goto and Ms. Batista apparently knew the family, according to Robert Rippeto, county director of social services.

The incident began when one of the social workers called South San Francisco police at 9 a.m. and indicated that there was "a mentally disturbed individual" in the garage with a gun.

Police said Barranti was standing in the entrance way of the residence when the suspect ran from the garage and fired a shot, hitting the officer in the knee.

As Barranti fell, the suspect ran back into the garage. DeSoto fired a shot through the dining room window that missed the man.

Goto then allegedly fired a second shot at the fallen Barranti, which hit the officer's arm and entered the upper left leg.

As the two social workers, along with Goto's parents, were holed up in the house, the county SWAT team, helicopter unit, canine corps and scores of police surrounded the area and evacuated nearby residences before spotting Goto running through the back yard.

Officer Barranti

The helicopter unit shouted for Goto to surrender and the suspect threw up his hands and was taken into custody, according to police.

The social workers and Goto's parents were not hurt and were taken to the police department for lengthy interviews, according to police. None could be reached for comment late Friday.

Kuskie recalled that the last shooting of a police officer in South San Francisco occurred about four years ago, when one officer was struck in the nose by a bullet but not seriously hurt during a high-speed chase.

The last officer killed on duty was run over while directing traffic approximately 15 years ago, Kuskie noted.

DC May Move Bocce Courts

If the Jefferson Elementary School District Board of Trustees does not allow the bocce ball court at Colma Intermediate School to be improved, the City of Daly City may move the court to Hillside Park.

City Manager David Rowe said the city will consider moving the court so that it can be covered.

The City Council voted Monday night to approve a contract with the San Mateo County Agency on Aging which would provide $6,750 for covering the court. Rowe pointed out that the contract has been revised to provide for a possible change in site.

The JESD trustees failed to vote unanimously to allow for the construction of the cover March 22 but are scheduled to hold a public hearing May 3 for possible reconsideration of the matter.

Trustee Beverly Forrester, whose approval was necessary for the action, said at the March 22 meeting that she believed the city had been uncooperative in solving a noise problem at Colma Elementary School. Thus, she said, she would not vote for the city's request.

Mrs. Forrester's action generated protest from area residents, which resulted in a petition of 419 names asking the board to take another vote.

Frank Loretta, vice-president of the Hillside Homeowners Improvement Association, presented the petition from residents at a board meeting a week ago.

Rowe said the Hillside Park location is the only one being considered for the bocce ball facility.

In another matter, the council approved another contract with the county which will pay for a $2,625 stove for the Lincoln Park Community Center.

The subject of the new stove, which will aid the Senior Citizens Nutrition Project in preparation of lunches for the elderly, generated some criticism from Crocker Neighborhood Association member Harold Calder.

Calder said he feared the seniors' project is "taking over" the Lincoln Park center, which he said should be used for neighborhood functions. He said some of the participants in the project are from San Francisco.

"I don't see anything wrong with feeding the seniors," Councilman Anthony Giammona told Calder. "If we are helping someone who lives a block over the line in San Francisco, it really doesn't bother me."

Calder went on to complain that he has tried in the past to hold Crocker Neighborhood Association

Schumacher Trial Starting Today

Daly City Mayor William J. Schumacher will be tried, beginning today, on a misdemeanor charge of violation of the state's Business and Professional Code.

Schumacher, an attorney, has pleaded not guilty to the charge, which alleges that he deceived a judge during a 1976 defense of a Brisbane man on a drunken driving charge.

The former client, Michael D. A'chille of Brisbane, has alleged that Schumacher told him to surrender a duplicate driver's license to Judge Charles Becker after D'Achille was convicted of the charge.

The trial is on the calendar of Judge James Miller in the Northern Judicial District Municipal Court in South San Francisco. It will be a jury trial, and is expected to begin at 9 a.m.

Amended ABAG Plan Clears Hurdle

By JANET PARKER

Amid a flurry of last-minute amendments and caucuses, the Bay Area Environmental Management Plan cleared its most significant hurdle to date Thursday — with the beleaguered land use controls nowhere in sight.

The $4.3 million plan, directed over the past two years by the Association of Bay Area Governments, will now be rewritten in its final form and forwarded to the ABAG General Assembly for action on June 10.

However, the ABAG Executive Board, meeting in Berkeley Thursday, decided to take one last poke at land use controls — measures that would have determined where and how development would occur in the region over the next 25 years.

The much-criticized controls were finally removed from even the addendum of the plan, although they will still be considered in continuing studies over the next 10 years.

There was surprisingly little debate at the board meeting as delegates from nine counties had their final say on the massive, federally mandated plan.

The 36 representatives breathed a sigh of relief when the meeting, expected to conclude around midnight, wrapped up at 7:30 p.m.

San Mateo County's four representatives agreed with the majority that land use measures should not be referred to in the final document that will be sent to the Environmental Protection Agency.

The local representatives are Supervisors Fred Lyon and John Ward, San Mateo Councilwoman Jane Baker and Burlingame Councilman Dave Martin. They voted to support the document as it now exists with many of the most sensitive proposals removed.

"I'm delighted with what we accomplished," said Mrs. Baker after the meeting.

"I am pleased that the three main items that I was instructed to do by the representatives of the cities . . . were accomplished," she added.

San Mateo County's General Assembly delegates have been meeting on Saturdays to put together their EMP strategy.

The three measures proposed by Mrs. Baker, endorsed by the cities on the Peninsula, and adopted by the Executive Board were:

• A priority to complete state freeways in which there now are "pollution-causing gaps" as cars idle through traffic jams during peak hours. Such gaps exist throughout the region, although the Highway 92-Highway 101 interchange was the target of San Mateo County.

• Assurance that each of the cities — not just the county supervisors — will adopt the final surface run-off plans for things like improved street sweeping.

Mrs. Baker said it was "very important we retain local control" and noted the potentially severe financial impact of surface run-off controls.

• Elimination of plans to review and amend the plan annually, replacing it with a plan to amend "only when needed."

Supervisor Lyon, in assessing the EMP, said it is a satisfactory plan.

However, he noted certain deficiences.

"It avoids some of the things we are going to be confronting in the next 10 years," Lyon said. The most important, he said, is the proper use of land to reduce reliance on vehicle use and increase dependence on public transportation.

"It doesn't address itself adequately to a solid waste plan," Lyon added, but it does meet the region's main objective — to meet federal standards in air and waste water quality.

"I hope the General Assembly will adopt it because if they don't, somebody will adopt it for us," Lyon asserted.

ABAG President Rod Diridon, a Santa Clara County supervisor, said 1,500 pages of testimony including 600 hours of public discussion have been taken to date concerning the EMP.

There was a last-minute effort by one representative to check into legislation that will allow a delay in the plan's completion. ABAG already has delayed adoption two months.

Diridon said he was personally informed by U.S. Sen. Alan Cranston of California that there is "no viable possibility" of federal legislation that will change the EMP deadlines.

"They were also very unhappy we have unilaterally extended the deadline as we have already," Diridon said.

The most difficult task for the board was replacing the land use measures — originally tagged at reducing Bay Area hydrocarbon emissions by some 24 tons a day — with equally effective measures.

The entire air quality portion of the plan is expected to reduce emissions from 800 to 450 tons a day.

Supervisor Lyon produced a motion written before the afternoon meeting that would have allowed the board to place seven measures in the plan. One or more of the measures would have been adopted between 1985 and 1987.

In the meantime, the Environmental Protection Agency would be satisfied that the 24-ton reduction would eventually be accomplished, supporters of the motion said.

However, the board eliminated three measures it found difficult to contend with: increasing the gas tax, implementing roadway pricing and providing "parking strategies" such as limited use of downtown parking lots at certain hours of the day.

These measures survived the board's scrutiny: controls on small gasoline engines, reduction of emissions from vehicles like tractors, stronger emission controls for autos beyond the 1977 legal requirements, and providing additional public transit.

ABAG delegates will determine which of those — if not all — will be implemented by 1990.

Although the much-debated land use controls were taken out of the core of the plan and placed in an addendum two months ago, many representatives expressed concern at their inclusion at all.

There were still fears that any mention of land use controls — which essentially told where and how development would occur in the region — might tempt the EPA to enforce them.

The motion adopted Thursday clearly specifies land use will not be mentioned to the EPA in the final plan, neither in the core nor in the addendum.

Chairman Diridon, in reviewing the EMP, said 99 percent of the amendments suggested by cities, counties and organizations in the Bay Area have been added to the plan.

"In the case of labor and industry, there has been a complete turnaround from their original position," Diridon said. "The controversial elements are out, and we still have local control."

Thursday morning at 10, members of the Daly City Friends of the Library will have the opportunity to hear Cecilia Bartholomew, author of "The Risk" and "A Touch of Joshua," review her latest psychological drama, "Outrun the Dark."

Mrs. Bartholomew, who teaches in the University of California Extension School, will be the honored guest at a no-host luncheon immediately following the meeting in the Westlake Library. Persons wishing to attend the luncheon at the Stone Soup may make reservations with Mrs. Eileen Winter.

A LUNCHEON and fashion show will be sponsored today at the Fort Mason's Officers Club by the Good Shepherd Ladies Guild, according to Mrs. Sarah Kelechava.

The social hour will begin at 11:30 a.m. and luncheon will be served at 12:30 p.m.

The program is planned as a fund-raising event for the parish and reservations cost $9 per person. For last minute information contact Mrs. Kelechava this morning.

Fashions for the fashion show portion of the event will be supplied by Ron's Hawaiian Shop in the Serramonte shopping center.

FRIDAY evening members of the Nu Sigma Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi will be celebrating Founder's Day with a dinner party at the Sheraton Inn in South San Francisco, according to the publicity person, Mrs. Janet Baccei.

The dinner will be the final event of the busy month. Gatherings sponsored by the sorority this month have included a surprise wedding shower for Lori Mark Benton. The party was in the home of Mrs. William Mairs. The following two gatherings were in the home of Mrs. John Maguire and included at "Hard Times" party and a cultural gathering featuring a talk on medicine.

WEDNESDAY, May 3, the local Girl Scouts will sponsor a badge workshop in square dance for Junior and cadette age scouts. Registration for this is $1.25 and enrollment will be limited.

Mrs. Lila Wilson has additional information for girls who may be interested in this activity.

ITS NOSTALGIA time at Our Lady of Mercy Parish as the members of the 1978 Festival Committee plan "Victorian Scene," this year's edition of the parish's annual fun-filled salute to spring.

Rick Rickert is the general chairman and floor chairmen are Mrs. Robert Brizuela, Mrs. JoAnn Balestrieri, Mrs. John Hughes, Mrs. Jay San Pietro, John Hughes and Joseph Potter. Mrs. Richard Mudge, Mrs. John Willden and William Miller are handling the major investment tickets and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Galliani are arranging the chicken dinner which will be served on May 6 as a special treat for festival-goers. Ed Cuevas will do the decorations.

This year the festival will run from May 4 through May 7 with activities centered in the parish hall.

TWELVE members of the Daly City Dolphins Parents's Club became AAU officials recently.

Mrs. Lynn Bipes, Mrs. Carla Beedle, Mrs. Cherie Foge and Mrs. Marion Carey received administration credentials and pool side instructors cards were given to Mrs. Terry De Martini, Mr. Donna Rhoades. Mr. Roz Morino, Mrs. Margaret Brunell, Jim Marino. Darren and Norman Foge and Doug Dawkins, Sr.

A SPECIAL concert sponsored by the Mt. Herman Family Conference Committee at Broadmoor Presbyterian Church was this past weekend.

Members of the sponsoring group are Mrs. Stella Loveless, Mrs. Natalie Price, Mrs. Tricia Rosso, Mrs. Lee Robinson, Mrs. Perky Ramroth, Mrs. Helen McLean, Mrs. Dorothy Ostberg, Peter Quibell, Bob Sharp, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Huffaker, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Weston, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Gillespie and the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Herbert C. Tweedie.

The guest artist was concert pianist Eda Jameson of Yuba College in Marysville, the sister of Mrs. Tweedie. Proceed from the concert will be used to benefit the operations fund of the family conference being planned for Sept. 22 and 24 in the Santa Cruz mountains.

MAY 13 has been selected for the annual Fuchsia Ball sponsored by the Mary's Help Hospital guild.

Mrs. Barbara Cardinalli is chairing the ball this year and she has announced that the site for the gala will be the California Golf Club.

MR. AND MRS. J. R. Bernard of Daly City became grandparents March 31, via the arrival of a son to their daughter and son-in-law, Susann and Chuck Donahue. The 6-pound, 15-ounce baby was born in San Francisco's Kaiser Hospital.

Assessor Foes in a Heated Debate

Two candidates for county assessor are squabbling over the cost effectiveness of a novel approach to establishing the value of property in San Mateo County — self appraisal.

Tom Collins, chief appraiser of real property, promised last week that if elected assessor in June he would introduce an appraisal program that would allow homeowners to set value on their own homes.

Known as the Taxpayer Assisted Property Evaluation System (TAPES), the program currently is in use in other areas of the country, including Pierce County, Wash., and Cook County, Ill.

"The benefits of this program are tremendous," Collins commented. "In addition to giving taxpayers a direct voice in the appraisal of their homes, the program would lead to increased efficiency and reduced staff in the county assessor's office." he said.

His opponent, Roland Giannini, currently chief appraiser in the assessor's office standards division, charged that the program would be "very costly to administer" and would generate a "nightmare of paperwork."

"People are tired of new government programs that produce waste and efficiency, Gionnini said. "They demand and should receive quality performance from government."

Collins said he believes the TAPES program would end much of the antagonism that now exists between property owners and the assessor's office.

"We are in the midst of an unprecedented tax revolt," said Collins, "and we must open the (tax) system to dialogue between taxpayers and their local government officials, particularly their tax officials."

TAPES, Collins claimed, goes a long way to bridge the communications gap.

Under the program, property owners each year would receive in the mail a form which would detail the current description and condition of their property, including additions and removals.

If the property owner disagrees with the description or valuation, he would be allowed to correct the information and return the form to the assessor's office.

The corrected data would be compared to the county appraisal fact sheet, and if the two forms were in disgreeement, an appraiser would visit the property personally and discusss the difference with the taxpayer.

"This program has been amazingly successful (in Washington and Illinois) since 1974 in reducing costs, streamlining taxation procedures, increasing taxpayer involvement and reducing taxpayer frustration," said Collins.

He estimated that significant assessor's office staff reductions could be made if TAPES were implemented in San Mateo County.

Giannini counters that Pierce County received a $459,000 grant to begin the self-appraisal program, which he claimed has not lived up to its promise of cost efficiency.

It was hoped, Giannini maintained, that the Pierce County program could be implemented throughout the state.

"It was not," he said "because of administrative problems, additional paperwork and cost."

Giannini said that he visited the Washington State Department of Taxation in 1976 and was told by officials there the program was an example of "poor property tax administration."

Good morning, good cooks.

When you think of dumplings you have all kinds to choose from. Herbed or plain atop meat stews. Schnitz und kneppe, Pennsylvania Dutch style ham with dumplings and dried apples. Gnocchi, Italian dumplings served with a sauce. Knaidlach, Jewish dumplings steamed and served in chicken soup. Apple dumplings, a pastry-wrapped baked apple. All are American favorites. And they illustrate the variety, the different regional and ethnic influences of American cookery.

History, climate, terrain and availability of ingredients have shaped American regional cookery. And every American family has preserved it with its favorite heirloom recipes.

Old-fashioned apple dumplings are an all-time favorite. The apples traditionally are spiced with brown sugar, cinnamon, allspice and nutmeg with centers of the apples filled with orange marmalade. Apple dumplings are best served hot with rum hard sauce, a simple mixture of margarine, confectioners' sugar and rum.

OLD-FASHIONED APPLE DUMPLINGS

⅓ cup firmly packed light brown sugar
¼ cup (⅛ stick) margarine, softened
⅛ teaspoon ground cinnamon
¼ teaspoon ground allspice
¼ teaspoon ground nutmeg
2 cups unsifted flour
1 teaspoon salt
2/3 cup margarine
6 to 7 tablespoons ice water
6 large baking apples, pared and cored
6 tablespoons orange marmalade
In a small bowl combine ⅛ cup brown sugar, ¼ cup softened margarine, ⅛ teaspoon cinnamon, ¼ teaspoon allspice and ¼ teaspoon nutmeg. Blend thoroughly; set aside.

Measure 2 cups flour and 1 teaspoon salt into a bowl. Cut in 2/3 cup margarine with pastry blender or two knives until mixture resembles coarse meal. Stir in 6 to 7 tablespoons ice water; mix well.

On lightly floured board roll out dough to a 14 by 21-inch rectangle. Cut into six 7-inch squares. Place an apple in center of each square. Spoon 1 tablespoon orange marmalade in center of each apple. Spread brown sugar mixture on sides of apples. Bring up corners of dough to meet in center of apple; seal well. Place in large shallow baking dish. Bake at 350 degrees F. about 1 hour, or until done. Serve hot with Rum Hard Sauce (below). Makes 6 servings.

RUM HARD SAUCE

Cream ½ cup (1 stick) margarine until very light and fluffy (about 5 minutes). Gradually beat in 1 cup unsifted confectioners' sugar. Blend in 1 tablespoon light rum. Chill at least 1 hour.

Mother-Daughter Tea on Tap

The United Presbyterian Women of Broadmoor Presbyterian Church, 377 87th St., Daly City once again are completing plans for their annual Mother-Daughter Candlelight Tea to be May 2 at 7 p.m.

Penny Manis, program chairman, has developed a program of pantomime, music and narration around the theme "Magic Moments" in the lives of mothers and daughters.

Food is being handled by Shirley Stone, Bernice Hamilton and Thelma Stockman and the decorations are by Olive Smith, Aileen Barkman and Eunice Brabec.

Flowers and hostesses are arranged by Charlotte Spruiell; the guest book by Louise Tinsley and the serving and cleanup by Kuhn Circle members.

Phosphorus Aids Growth

Phosphorus is necessary for plant growth. Flowering and fruiting, crop maturation, root development and resistance to disease are all affected by this important element.

Help Wanted

The following agencies have requested volunteer assistance from the Volunteer Bureau/Voluntary Action Center of San Mateo County, with offices in Burlingame, Daly City and Redwood City.

The local number for area residents is 992-0957, an answering service. Residents also may contact the main office in Burlingame, 342-0801, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

FRIENDS TO PARENTS — Volunteers are needed to assist and befriend isolated and inexperienced young parents on a one-to-one basis. Volunteers assist the parent in assuming control of their own lives. Training is provided and the next training session will begin May 16 in the evening. Volunteers are needed throughout North San Mateo County.

TRAVELER'S AID — Volunteers are needed to staff the desk at International Airport to provide information and assistance to travelers in need. Assistance is needed on weekends and evenings from 5 to 9 p.m. Training is provided for interested individuals.

HEALTH AND WELFARE DEPARTMENT — A tutor is needed urgently for a 10-year-old boy who has had to miss a lot of school due to a rare blood disease. Once a week help in all of his subjects would be very helpful. This could be done at his home in Daly City.

SUICIDE PREVENTION AND CRISIS CENTER — The next training session for volunteers interested in staffing the 24-hour crisis line will begin June 3 and continue for the following four Saturdays. Interviews are required prior to the training.

ANIMAL WELFARE ASSOCIATION — Any volunteers who would like to help animals are needed to assist with a flea market at South San Francisco High School April 28 to 30. Proceeds are used to subsidize spay and neutering or medical care for pets belonging to low-income families.

Additional information about these and other volunteer opportunities may be obtained by contacting the Volunteer Bureau at the numbers listed or by dropping by the main office in Burlingame, 119 Primrose Road. Interviews will be made in Daly City by appointment. A project of the Assistance League of San Mateo County, the Bureau shares in the United Way of the Bay Area and is funded, in part, by the County of San Mateo.

TAPING A SESSION

The Other Way Around: TV Turns Them On

By BILL HURSCHMANN

Realizing years ago that the age of television education was coming, Catherine Jianopoulos decided to initiate a videotape recording class at Southwood Junior High School in South San Francisco.

"There's no question in my mind that education will have to use television because there's simply too much to learn," Miss Jianopoulos says.

"And besides, the children are boob-tube oriented. This is the television age. Put the right thing on the screen and they'll learn."

Miss Jianopoulos' class this year has 14 enthusiastic students.

"The seventh-graders are the slaves," she says, "and the ninth-graders are the executives. I guess the eighth-graders are just in between."

The class is loaded with videotape equipment, including three television sets, two cameras, a recording machine and a multicaster with allows students to monitor both cameras.

"When we started in 1970, I just wanted to see what the students could accomplish," says Miss Jianopoulos who has taught at Southwood the past 18 years. "Now we have enough shows to choke a horse."

Her classes tape just about everything. They've put on basketball and baseball games, drama skits and plays, national and public interest events taped from public television, historical events such as the inauguration of President Carter, and classes of all sorts from mechanics to art.

"We've taped almost every class in school," she adds.

Once, for the school's science classes, her students videotaped a physician doing a disection so all science classes could view it.

Students have experimented with special effects, too.

In the class, students develop a working knowledge of operating skills for videotape recording equipment.

The class provides them an opportunity to explore their interests in future careers and to develop leadership, responsibility, creativity and television skills in an atmosphere of learning excitement, hard work, and creativity in school service, Miss Jianopoulos says.

"The kids are extremely hard workers and are very loyal to each other," she notes.

"Because of their responsibility, they do it all. I teach them and then let them go on their own and make their own mistakes."

Bill Koenig is captain of this year's class, while Joe Pieretti is co-captain. Both are ninth-graders.

Miss Jianopoulos says the class is more valuable since it is the only one offered in the South San Francisco Unified School District.

"Our high school students don't have the same opportunity," she says.

Besides learning good programming skills, Miss Jianopoulos says, the responsibility and dependability instilled in the students comes first.

'Holocaust' Was Real For Peninsula Resident

By BILL HURSCHMANN

The "Holocaust" could happen again, says a San Bruno man who lived through it.

Eddy Wynschenk says it was all luck that allowed him to survive several concentration camps during World War II, including the infamous Auschwitz-Birkenau camp.

"I'm willing to talk about it now because I owe it to my family," says Wynschenk, admitting that discussing the Holocaust brings back many painful memories. His mother, father, three sisters, a brother, a brother-in-law and a nephew all were killed by the Nazis during the war.

"And I owe it to all the people who should know what happened, and particularly to the young people. They should know what can happen under a dictatorship; so it can't happen again."

Wynschenk claims such a situation could occur again because "the Jewish people can't depend on anybody . . . history proves that. No country during World War II would take the Jews. The Jewish people must depend on themsevles. We simply can't afford to take a chance."

The 50-year-old Wynschenk, who has lived in San Bruno since 1964, was born in Amsterdam, Holland. When he was 13, the Germans invaded Holland, but their interference with the lifestyle was gradual in coming.

It wasn't long before Jews in Amsterdam were required to register and to carry identification papers, which bore a large "J" and the Star of David. Public transportation, public schools, sporting events and movie theaters were banned to the 80,000 Jews living in Amsterdam.

In 1941, Dutch sympathizers, on orders from the Nazis, took over Wynschenk's father's wholesale fruit and vegetable business. Later they ordered Jews throughout Holland to congregate in the larger cities.

The restrictions increased. Later, Jews were not allowed to have a non-Jewish friend visit them or to shop in non-Jewish stores.

"The Germans slowly began acquiring all the wealth and slowly strangling the Jews," Wynschenk says. Curfews were established and all Jews had to be in their homes by 8 p.m., and not leave them before 6 a.m.

"The first steps toward 'termination' began in 1942, he recalls, only we didn't know it." That's when Jews were ordered to "labor camps," the first step toward the gas ovens of Auschwitz.

In September of that year, Dutch sympathizers visited the Wynschenk apartment and took away Wynschenk and his parents while other members of his family hid in a loft upstairs.

However, a letter — of which Wynschenk still does not know the contents — somehow played a part in getting the family released. Yet, it was only temporary.

On April 13, 1943, the Gestapo herded Wynschenk, his mother and father and 23-year-old invalid brother into a large movie theater. Then they were taken to Vught, a concentration camp in Holland.

Wynschenk never saw his brother again, and a month later, he saw his parents for the last time. They were killed in May 1943.

Wynschenk, whose age had saved him from being shipped to Auschwitz and eventual gassing, held a variety of jobs at the Vught camp, but primarily was a messenger.

He always tried to "outsmart the Germans," he notes. "You give them the impression that you're playing their games, but you're doing it on your terms."

In June 1943, Wynschenk's two sisters turned themselves in at Vught. He later discovered they had promised to take care of their younger brother if anything happened to their parents.

Wynschenk became ill in the fall of 1943 and was transported to Westerbork, a transit camp were Jews were deposited before being shipped on a cattle wagon to Auschwitz.

In September he saw his two sisters for the final time. He waved goodbye to them through electrified barbed wires around Vught.

Wynschenk spent a couple of months at Westerbork, working there, too, as a messenger.

He remembers, "I had some opportunities to escape, but I never dared. If they caught you they'd hang you. But if I knew what really was happening, I certainly would have taken the gamble."

In November 1943, Wynschenk was loaded on a cattle train with hundreds of other people and transported to Auschwitz-Birkenau, perhaps the most dreadful of all concentration camps.

"People were going crazy in the train, gasping for air. It was just unreal. It is so unreal that you can't believe it. The only way to feel it, to know what happened, was to be there. It's still hard for me to imagine that a cultured people such as the Germans would stand for it."

Once the Jews arrived at Auschwitz-Birkenau — they came in groups of about 1,200 — most of them were gassed immediately, Wynschenk says. Only about 200 of the original 1,200 were spared. The 200 had all their hair shaved, they were given little food and tattered clothing, and then placed in crowded barracks.

There were four crematoriums at Auschwitz, he remembers. "They looked like factories, and they burned day and night."

Wynschenk's life was spared through a clerical error while at Auschwitz-Birkenau. His tatooed number (still on his left arm) was 164068, and he expected to be called for transportation to the gas chamber. However, 164058 was called instead, and Wynschenk survived.

Samuel Chandler

Mr. Chandler: "In response to your column on the Jarvis-Gann Amendment. They're trying to scare you. Nobody's going to close libraries and things like fire stations and city parks."

Well, they're doing a good job of scaring me.

I'M SCARED when I read the Jarvis-Gann budgets being prepared by the various cities. Just look!

Daly City's Jarvis-Gann budget calls for eliminating the departments that operate the public library, recreation and redevelopment. All other departments will be cut from 17 to 90 percent of the present budget.

Redwood City officials have been asked to present a Jarvis-Gann budget reflecting a 50 percent cut.

SAN MATEO is talking of dismissing two-thirds of the employees of some departments.

San Mateo County is projecting a 50 percent cut.

The heads of some San Francisco departments have been told they will be cut by 83 percent of their present budgets, if not more.

MEANWHILE, predictions indicate that thousands — yes, thousands — of school teachers and personnel will be dismissed if the Jarvis-Gann passes.

Already there is talk of closing Skyline and Canada colleges. City and county street departments, police, fire departments and recreation officials have been instructed to determine what services are necessary to prevent crime and deterioration of human rights and property.

I'm scared, all right! Scared enough to recommend to voters that they become informed before they vote.

FACT SHEETS from the ever-dispassionate League of Women Voters are being distributed widely and should be studied by all the voters. One of these sheets makes these points: "The Jarvis-Gann is unfair . . . More than half the benefits of Jarvis-Gann will fall to commercial and other income producing properties, with no assurance that these savings will be passed on to renters and consumers . . . This propositions will build into the state constitution a continuing shift of the property tax burden from business to residential properties.

"It will undermine local and county government. . . . Those public services which are financed by the property tax inevitably will suffer. However, cuts imposed by the proposition would not be made across the board on an equal basis. Many programs are state and federally mandated and cannot be cut. For example, the country contribution of property tax monies for adult welfare and Medi-Cal cannot be cut.

"It would cause chaos in our schools . . . The County Offices of Education has analyzed the impact on current year school district budgets if Jarvis-Gann were in effect now, and discovered that the Community College District would lose 41.7 percent of its budget" while the high school districts would lose up to 44.8 percent of their funds. "These are staggering figures and everyone can imagine the results: Elimination of after-school sports, music instruction, all ancillary services, great increase of class sizes, and huge personnel layoffs."

Other points made by the League of Women Voters include: The Jarvis-Gann is unclear, other taxes could rise drastically, it is inflexible, it i a bad law.

"To summarize, Jarvis-Gann is simply bad tax law. It is inequitable, not neutral, inflexible, difficult to amend, expensive to administer and it gives more relief to commercial and industrial property owners than to the homeowners it is supposed to protect."

Anti-Crime Tip

Use Techniques Seriously

Jerome Reitenbach, a member of the Anti-Crime League of Daly City, offers the following advice — "Too often, people learn self-defense to protect themselves against a known enemy instead of the unknown.

"Once these people master a few techniques, they rush home to experiment with family and friends. However, much to their disappointment, the same technique which caught them by surprise never seems to work.

"It is ineffective because one does not display maximum effort against a loved one or friend. We are trained not to hurt someone close to us. The naive person is very disillusioned. However, techniques only work when we are serious."

Ram-blings

By STEVE KAUFMAN

Westmoor High wiped its slate clean again as the fourth and final quarter of the year got underway. Best luck to everyone in their studies.

Students in mini-courses switched to new classes for the second half of this semester. These little nine-week courses offer a variety of subjects for students to choose. Hope all who made the change to a new class enjoy them.

JUNIORS and seniors who want to go to the University of San Francisco will attend and view the campus tomorrow. Students will meet with representatives from the admissions and financial aid offices. I'm sure the trip will be very informative.

Students who are going to Washington, D.C. next year via the Close-Up program are selling stick candy for a dime as well as the original Almond Roca rolls. Good luck to all the sellers.

The snack bar at Westmoor has a new item. Fresh popcorn is going for 25 cents a bag. This should prove to be a popular item among the many offered already.

TWO MAJOR attractions are offering discounts to students. Many Westmoor kids, after spending a great prom night, usually go to Marriott's Great America the next day to continue the fun. Normal price to enter the park is $8.95. The park is offering a $4 discount. The average couple will save eight dollars, which can go toward other events for the prom.

Also, Santa Cruz Beach and Boardwalk is offering a special rate of $3.50 for unlimited rides between the hours of 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. The discount is slated for May 19, Senior Cut Day, in which all seniors are allowed to take the day off from school. Hope all have fun.

Westmoor's intramural sports program got underway recently, with students playing horseshoes and basketball. Held on the outside basketball courts, these games drew a good crowd of participants and spectators. Congratulations to the Student Morale Committee for all its hard work on this project.

ANY SENIOR girl who is going to College of San Mateo is eligible to become a cheerleader or pom-pom girl. The try-out schedule is posted in the counselors' hallway.

Any students interested in a summer driver training course should sign up in the main office. This behind-the-wheel course includes practice in the driving simulator before getting in the car and actually driving on the road.

There will be two sessions, June 19-26 and June 27 to July 5. After July 5, the simulator goes to Terra Nova. Anyone interested should sign up immediately with Mrs. Delucci in the main office for reservations. Special thanks to her for all her work in this area. Besides notarizing the document certifying the student passed the course, she arranges the driver training sessions and handles all of the forms. Many thanks.

WESTMOOR has many services to help students but one recent one directly involves all 18-year-olds at the school. Any senior who is eligible to vote got the chance to do so April 20. Applications for registration were handed out fourth and fifth periods. This was done to give these seniors a chance to vote in the upcoming state elections.

Any seniors who ordered school key chains picked them up from Mrs. Charles in Room 14. These beautiful gold chains bear the insignia "Seniors, '78" and have an old-fashioned type of key hanging from the chain. Herff-Jones Co. distributes and sells these mementos.

I RECENTLY received a letter from Pat Oxenham, the president of the Westmoor PTA. I was astounded, as the letter revealed some of the things the PTA has done in this school year alone. They include attending College Night, where the PTA served coffee and had a cake sale with one-half of the profits going to the freshman class; a liaison committee to the Athletic Department encouraged parents to attend games and help reduce the cost to the department by paying for uniforms, etc.; donating cookies to the Peninsula Blood Bank.

In October, 1977 an annual dinner/dance made over $500. The proceeds went to school funds. $1 of each ticket sold by students went to the person's class fund; the PTA donated $100 to the students who attended the recent Close-Up program; it donated $100 to the Journalism Department to help relieve the cost of going to the annual convention in San Diego; the chapter attended the freshman orientation night in February and had another cake sale with one-half of the profits going to the freshman class; at Westmoor's highly successful career day, it served coffee and donut holes to all the speakers; it will donate, as it does every year, $200 in scholarships; the PTA donated $50 to the winning class of Spirit Week and $25 to the second place class; it attends the senior graduation reception; and a class representative has been in attendance at all of our board meetings and always has been able to exchange quite a lot of ideas.

THE LIST goes on and on. Somehow, thank you doesn't seem like enough. The PTA is one of the most involved parent groups at Westmoor and its help throughout the year is greatly appreciated.

Prior to Open House April 27, a unit meeting will be held, as mentioned last week in this column. Since then I have learned that this is the only unit meeting of the year, and elections of the new PTA officers for the 1978-79 year will be elected. Mrs. Oxenham said it is imperative that all members attend this important meeting.

Executive Board, Youth Elderly Service Club, Student Congress, Service Club, (which, incidently, is working at the Special Olympics), Auto Club, sophomore class, and the Christian Fellowship Club had meetings last week.

THE OPEN Campus Committee made its presentation April 18 to the Jefferson Union High School District Board of Trustees to initiate a change in the current closed campus system. Most of the schools in the district are working on this project, including Westmoor, Oceana, Serramonte and Terra Nova.

The two representatives from Westmoor are Steve Boides and Gary Robinson. The committee felt that the presentation speech went well. There may be two additional board meetings before any action is taken on the proposal. A question and answer meeting on the subject probably will highlight the next board meeting. A trial period is hoped to be approved by the board with the policy becoming effective in the fall semester.

WESTMOOR is getting another popular and recent movie. "The Deep," starring Robert Shaw, Jacqueline Bisset, Nick Nolte, Louis Gossett and Eli Wallach, will play in the Little Theater May 16, 17 and 18. Cost will be 25 cents per day.

Also, two armed forces bands will play at Westmoor. The Navy band will perform May 9 and the Army Band will play May 23. These performances always have proven popular with the students. They will be featured in the Little Theater during lunch times.

SPORTS — Westmoor's swim team captured first place with a victory over El Camino. The Rams will be host to the NPL Swim Trials and Finals. Congratulations for great work!

The frosh-soph baseball league is one of close contention. Westmoor's team is only one-half game out of first place. One prominent reason is the superb pitching of Ron Larsen, who threw a no-hitter against Serramonte, a one-hitter against El Camino and Serra, and a three-hitter against Terra Nova. Also highlighting the lineup is Steve Costelli, who is averaging .400 hitting and is doing an "outstanding job" at shortshop, according to his coach, Skip DelSarto. Keep up the good work!

SCIENCE AWARD

Colleen Duggan, a senior at Westmoor High School in Daly City, has been named winner of an annual Bausch and Lomb Science Award. Colleen, who is doing straight A work in her science classes at Westmoor, has been accepted for enrollment at UC Santa Cruz, but now has a chance to compete for a four-year Bausch and Lomb Science Scholarship at the University of Rochester in Rochester, N.Y. She says her college emphasis will be on biochemistry and microbiology. Colleen has been active with the German Club at Westmoor and is a life member of the California Scholarship Federation.

SQUARE DANCERS

These young square dancers are part of the Colma Pioneers, who will perform at the Colma Elementary School spring concert, open house and curriculum fair Thursday at 7 p.m. at the school. This will be preceded by a "Dime-a-Dip Dinner" at 5:30 p.m. The dancers pictured include Bruce McConico, Jason Kruljac, Nadine Gupta, Mary Bennett, Kevin Cooper, Janine Caron, Dee Borrego, Alice Cipriani, Jeff Cox and Benny Acosta. There also will be Glee Club and instrumental performances.

The Regent

By JULIE SMITH

Serramonte's 1978-79 student body officers have been elected. This year there was stiff competition in most offices. All candidates put posters up on the walls in the halls and some even put slips of paper in lockers asking for votes. The election was April 18 during first period and the results came in April 19. All of the candidates were called into conference room B and the winners were announced.

Next year's student body officers are: President, Imogene Mamoe; vice-president, Diana Law; secretary, Carol Hall; treasurer, Shirley Ong; commissioner of athletics, June Lara; commissioner of elections, Leslie McNeil; commissioner of inside publicity, Doris Masferrer; commissioner of outside publicity, Genny Hom; and commissioner of rallies and entertainment, Daphine Jackson. Genny will be writing this column next year. Congratulations to all new officers and the best of luck throughout next year.

SENIORS! Don't be forgotten! Place something for you to be remembered by in the senior time capsule. The time capsule will be dedicated along with the senior plaque sometime in May. Pictures, newspaper clippings, ticket stubs, student body cards, etc., all make good ideas! The time capsule will be reopened at the class reunion.

Last Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday six members of the accreditation committee came to Serramonte High School. They sat in on some of the classes and had meetings with the department heads and student committee. Serramonte will not know if it is re-accredited until July.

CONGRATULATIONS to Joe Cape for having a high score of 202 last week at Westlake Bowl. Joe, besides bowling 202 for his own personal satifaction, received a pin from Westlake Bowl as a 200 pin bowler. Keep up the good work, Joe!

ANY SENIOR who is from an economically deprived family or whose family is on welfare or is a ward of the court and who would be interested in attending Skyling College this summer for six hours per day for six weeks should see Mr. Silberstein for further information.

Seniors who are from low-income families and plan to attend Skyline in the fall should see Silberstein about special services, such as counseling, tutoring, financial aid, etc. that can be offered to them.

Tryouts for graduation speakers were held in the Little Theater April 13. Four students showed up to audition for the two available speaking positions.

Students auditioning were Maria Valavanis, Andy Serrano, Anne White, and Darlinda Diaz-Gonzalez.

Judges were Anita Hilmoe, English teacher; Jim Force, counselor; Liz Hall, counselor; and Jan Patton, Senior Class advisor. Student judges were Mark Zanobini, Senior Class president; Amber Arnold, Senior Class treasurer; Lori Golden, valedictorian; and Patrick Dunkley, student representative. After some hard deliberation and heated arguments, the judges decided on Serrano, for having the best prepared speech, and Maria Valavanis whose speech had the best content. Andy is a VICA gold medal winner in speech, as well as being news editor of the Tom-Tom, the student newspaper. Maria is senior class secretary, CSF president, International Club president, and a varsity cheerleader.

LAST WEEK a story was written about the student members of AB65, and Tani Empleo. Tani is this month's "Student-of-the-Month." She is a sophomore, and aside from being on AB65, is on the Student Advisory Board, and plans on being on that and the District Planning Council. Tani has put a lot of time and effort into improving the school, and hopes to do more.

TEACHERS recently had a guest speaker, Bert Brauer, from educational FM radio station KALW, 91.7. Bauer's discussion was about students. Later, he interviewed many teachers about innovating programs at Jeff. The interviews, which were taped, will be aired June 13 and 20.

Two weeks ago Jeff started, on a trial basis, an activity schedule. The activity schedule is held every Wednesday for 35 minutes after fourth period. The time is set aside for class and club meetings and for students to get individual help from teachers.

The test program will be given five chances to succeed.

The original plan, as it is done at two other schools in the district, was to have it after sixth period, but the student government class feared that too few students would stay to use the schedule to full advantage.

The belief is that given this chance, they might.

JEFFERSON'S annual carnival will begin on May 4, and run until May 7.

There will be many fun-filled activities, such as the senior jail, a dime pitch, the pizza sale, and dart target.

THE SENIOR Rowdy Club recently met to dispense information on prom pictures, grad night, the senior picnic and the senior tea.

Also discussed was the carnival. This year the seniors will have a "jail," in which people will buy "warrants." Those "arrested" either will spend time in "jail" or pay a "bail bond" for release.

TEA PLANNERS

GIRL SCOUTING

DALY CITY DELEGATES to today's San Francisco Bay Area Girl Scout Council's annual meeting in the East Bay will be led by Daly City Association Chairman Mrs. Mary Ann Dale.

Delegates include Mmes. Diane Pangborn, Carole Ann Scott, Caroline Futrell, Roz Morino and Judy Rigas and Misses Seona Connolly and Meg Jones.

Guests planning to attend include Mmes. Karen Rodgers, Margaret Connolly and Lois Manbert.

They will meet at 9 a.m. at 88 Woodside to plan a car pool.

MRS. JANIE STANFIELD, who with her husband Jim is a recent resident of Daly City, was the highlight of the recent Daly City Girl Scout Association meeting.

Mrs. Stanfield, an American Camping Association trainer, led the adults in a session of group participation in song leading.

She will serve as the local group's outdoor trainer during her stay here.

"FUN IN THE SUN in the high Sierras" this summer will be the program emphasis for the Daly City Girl Scout Association, according to Camping Coordinator Mrs. Carole Ann Scott.

Girl Scouts and non-Scout friends are invited to White Meadows, outside Placerville, July 16 through 22. The program will include the usual swimming, hiking, cooking and the arts.

However, girls can take workshop courses in rowing and canoeing, electrical shop, ham radio, backpacking, synchronized swimming and building a survival course.

For more information, troop leaders have camp brochures and Mrs. Scott, at 755-1090, or Harriet Ream at 751-4733, are available to answer questions of parents and girls.

DAY CAMP, a little closer to home, at Camp Ida Smith, in San Francisco, across from Lake Merced, is scheduled for August 7 through 10 and 14 through 18.

Program emphasis will be outdoor cooking using wood fires, charcoal, foil and stickcooking; outdoor ceremonies; arts and crafts; and outdoor campfire singing.

Again, non-Scouts are welcome and Mrs. Scott has more information.

Nutrition Funding Lagging

By LIN DAY

Nutrition is being considered more and more a prime ingredient to good health, but remains poorly funded in its research projects.

So said several speakers at a day-long seminar Saturday at College of San Mateo.

They discussed the value of preventing health problems through good nutrition from various aspects, in the Community Education conference titled "Eating May be Hazardous to Your Health."

Dr. Carolyn Brown, director of The Growing Mind, a school for the learning disabled, told of the use of good nutrition to attack the problem of juvenile delinquency, with obviously beneficial results.

Other speakers told of the use of nutrition to combat cancer, hypoglycemia and arthritis. Several attacked the use of sugar. Mrs. Helene Wilcox, director of the California State Hospitals Orthomolecular Advisory Council, discussed the need for a preventive health care delivery system.

The current delivery system, she said, is responsible for skyrocketing health costs because it focuses on the medical model, treating the sick, rather than the well.

Preventive health care, in which nutrition would play a major role, could greatly reduce the total costs, she indicated.

She made it clear that the individual that is responsible to himself or herself for nutrition, and that the need to educate and inform is obvious.

"Read one book on nutrition," she quipped, "and you will probably know more about it than your doctor."

Dr. Arthur Robinson, director of the Linus Pauling Institute of Science and Medicine, indicated there is hope for increased funding from both private and governmental sources.

Dr. Jimmy Scott, director of the Acos Foundation, San Francisco, which sponsors programs on the facts of proper health, urged individuals to listen to their own body.

"It will tell you," he said. "What does it say when things happen?"

Scott said the power of the mind over the body is often underrated.

He commented that "the mind and the body are all together." Most problems in the body occur in areas where a person is least aware, he said. Stress, he said, makes it difficult for the body to function.

Scott added that there is no particular way to increase awareness, but that there "are hundreds of ways in which you can increase it."

He warned that one has to be discriminating and careful not to accept blindly everything said about nutrition and health.

As an example, he pointed out that while chloresterol in the body creates problems at times, there is no evidence that eating chloresterol, such as eggs, creates chloresterol in the body.

On the other hand, he said, many foods containing large amounts of chloresterol also contain very necessary ingredients for the body.

"It's not how much chloresterol you eat," he asserted. "The more you eat, the less your body makes."

Dr. Scott also emphasized that every person is different and has his own particular body chemistry.

Telling of his own involvement over the years in hypnosis, he said the power of the mind is such that some people "can suggest to themselves that a food will not contribute to their fat, and it works."

The craving for smoking and drinking, he said, will go away with proper nutrition, although a weak habit may remain.

Scott said, too, that many foods remain too high in fats and that too many people have a diet where the calories come from fatty foods, causing problems.

Man Held in Knife Attack

A 23-year-old Daly City man has been held to answer in Superior Court on charges stemming from an April 5 incident in Daly City.

Willie Collis will appear in Superior Court in Redwood City on May 1 to answer to charges of assault with intent to commit murder, assault with a deadly weapon and burglary.

He had entered a not guilty plea to all counts in Northern Judicial District Municipal Court in South San Francisco.

Collis was arrested at the home of his estranged wife, Deborah, April 5 after he allegedly stabbed her with a kitchen knife.

Police said Collis had gone to the home at 179 Frankfort St. at 5:30 a.m. and asked to use the bathroom, which he did. He then allegedly remained until ordered to leave at 6:45 a.m., but returned just after 7, broke a front window and entered the house through it, police said.

Then he reportedly obtained a knife from the kitchen, dragged Mrs. Collis into the back yard and began stabbing her.

Police said they believed Collis to be living in his car at the time of the incident.

Ten Students Win

Ten San Mateo County high school students have been selected for awards in the 23rd annual "economic discussion" competition sponsored by the Invest-in-America Northern California Council.

Their written entries all concerned "My Future in the American Economic System."

Grand prize of two shares of Standard Oil Co. of California common stock went to Bill Osborne, 18-year-old Sequoia High senior.

Second overall prize winner from the county was Boris Zemtzov, Woodside High; third, Kevin Kirchoff, also of the Woodside school.

In addition to those three overall winners, awards were presented to the students who submitted the best entries from each participating school. They are:

Janet Loeb, Carlmont; Alicia Vlachou, El Camino; Maryanne Murray, Notre Dame; Yvonne Rozario, Oceana, Carolyn Cartier, South San Francisco; Kari Zaft, Terra Nova, and Joseph Dillingham, Woodside Priory.

Winners were announced and prizes awarded at a special luncheon held in cooperation with San Mateo County Development Association and Peninsula Manufacturers Association.

IMPROVE YOUR HOME

Fixed-income homeowners in South San Francisco, Millbrae and Brisbane are eligible to receive basic repairs, painting, yard and housework, clipping and weeding as part of a program sponsored by the Neighborhood Services Center. Doing some painting here is Alfredo Velasco. For information on eligibility and availability, call the Neighborhood Services Center.

Spectacular Small Fire

Vacant stables at the end of Lingayen Road near Robertson School in Daly City were set on fire, apparently by juveniles, on Saturday afternoon, firemen reported.

It was a spectacular blaze because of the deterioration of the stables, firemen noted, but the damage was minimal.

Daly City firemen, assisted by San Francisco fire personnel, spent about a half an hour putting out the blaze. There were no injuries.

Firemen are investigating the possibility of arson, they said.

for the funding of emergency loans to cover roof and plumbing repairs from Housing and Community Development Act monies, to be reimbursed when new HUD 312 funds are released next October.

Councilman Teglia was criticized by Pezzola and Pavellas when he questioned Connerly closely about what the "loosened" regulations would do for the "quality of the program."

Pavellas pointedly left out Teglia as he praised the four other councilmen for their work with the program.

Kyriakis, who has served as the HCDA Task Force Advisory Committee chairman, defended Teglia, saying that Teglia, as mayor, took a "major role in the rehabilitation program when it was in serious trouble of foundering."

meetings there, but, he said, "I was given to understand that I could not use this place too readily."

Council members urged him to take up the matter with the Recreation Commission, if he seeks further use of the facility.

In other business, the council:

• Heard a report from Rowe that four companies have submitted proposals to obtain the contract for the city's audit and that the deadline for further proposals is Wednesday.

Rowe declined to specify whether the Richard T. Dwyer accounting firm, which has handled both the city's and Daly City Scavenger Co. accounts in the past, has submitted a proposal.

• Agreed to provide the Daly City Community Multi-Purpose and Education Service Center a locked file cabinet for its youth jobs project, but delayed action on a request for a key to the Community Service Center.

• Approved, on second reading, ordinances which will provide for blue curb parking for the handicapped and will allow charitable institutions to apply for bingo licenses.

• Accepted a deed for purchase of a house at 201 Templeton Ave., and decided to set a hearing to sell three others purchased previously for the city's Lincoln Park expansion project.

• Heard Serramonte Homeowners Association representative Roseann Emerson report that problems associated with construction of Serramonte Unit 21 had been cleared up. Residents had complained of mud and potholes on area streets.

Bibs Provided With Crab Cioppino Feast

Among the six specials offered at various times throughout the week at CAPTAIN CHARLES, Rockaway Beach, is Crab Cioppino (the Treasure of Captain Charles), which is prepared from the original family recipe. Served family-style for two, or more, with bibs, natch.....Former 49er linebacker JIM SNIADECKI is the new owner of the well established SCOTTY CAMPBELL'S restaurant. The same excellent menu and high standards for which this award-winning restaurant has been known, will be continued by Jim. Future plans include serving lunch.....''Finger food'' is a specialty at LA PINATA Mexican restaurant. Flautas (three crispy rolled corn tortillas filled with shredded beef) is just one of the many items you can eat with your fingers.....Top Sirloin is listed on BEARDSLEY'S menu as a ''dinner for two'' specialty for $15.75. This Choice cut is offered with spinach salad or green salad. Even Waiter Val has a special menu selection — Beef Orloff, when available. . . . One of the most popular husband and wife teams in the restaurant business is FRANK and ELEANOR ROMAGUERA of the NEW SAN REMO in San Francisco's North Beach . . . VINCE'S Italian and Seafood restaurant is as informal as a Bay cruise boat and just as colorful and clamorous. The big attractions at this Peninsula ''Fisherman's Wharf'' are gourmet seafood and Italian specialties. The a la carte menu contains a vast selection of such delights. Yes, there are excellent steaks also.

ENTHRALLS AUDIENCES

Elegant Restaurant Nationally Famous

PHIL LEHR'S Pay-By-Gram STEAKERY, on the lower level of the San Francisco Hilton Tower, is a steak lover's paradise. The elegant restaurant is nationally famous for its selection of gourmet steak dishes, such as Cling Peach Beef Wellington. It's a tender filet mignon steak that is topped with a California Cling Peach half and baked in a flaky pastry shell.....Monte Hall, star of TV's popular ''Let's Make a Deal,'' graciously signed autographs for admiring fans between courses at ROSEBUD'S ENGLISH PUB, the elegant (but moderately priced) dining spot in the heart of San Francisco's Geary Street ''Theater Row''.....Side orders of most any Italian dish you can think of (spaghetti, ravioli, meat balls, sausage, sauteed mushrooms, garlic bread, and you-name-it) are listed on the menu at ROMANO'S Italian and seafood restaurant in Rockaway Beach . . . Fresh fruit daiquiris are the perfect beginning to luncheon or dinner at LEHR'S GREENHOUSE garden restaurant in San Francisco. MURRAY LEHR, ''The Green Grower,'' features the daiquiries in six delectable flavors, and all are made from strictly fresh fruit. . . . Food suppliers of L'AUBERGE French restaurant must meet with Owner LOUIS FRUTSCHI'S STRICT QUALIFCATIONS AS TO QUALITY. Louis recently turned down a bargain offer for lamb (from out of the country). Although this decision cut into his profits, Louis feels the best is to be found right in America . . . By popular demand, INDEED is back entertaining at PEABODY'S in Burlingame, and the group's many Bay Area fans are indeed happy. Chef Mishel Corday is now serving Kosher and continental food from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m., Mondays through Saturdays.

Glass of Wine Served With Meal

Roast Sirloin of Beef dinner for $4.25? That's right, at YOLANDA'S. The dinner special, served with soup, salad or pasta, two vegetables and French bread, also includes a glass of wine, says Owner BOB McLANE.....THE TRI SOUNDS, a real together group for the past 10 years, is cause for celebrating at the BAYHILL LOUNGE in San Bruno. Patrons are frequently overheard saying ''Far out.'' Dancing nightly, Tuesdays through Saturdays.....Clip the RODEWAY INN'S ''2 for 1'' dinner coupon and enjoy a palatable weekend treat at an unusual price. Every Friday, Saturday and Sunday for the rest of this month, diners buy one of the special dinners and receive the second one free.....The KING'S TABLE in Redwood City is a best bet for family dining because there is something on the bountiful buffet to satisfy every taste. Children love the fried chicken, Jello salads and help-yourself sundaes; adults go for the hearty dishes such as Barbecued Spare Ribs and Spaghetti with meat sauce.....Dim Sum, Chinese hors d'oeuvres, is a Saturday and Sunday menu highlight at K. C. LO'S GOLDEN DOOR restaurant in downtown San Mateo. Dim Sum is served with a pot of hot tea and Fortune cookies . . . Margaritas are considered a specialty in the cantina of SENOR PEPE'S, a colorful Mexican restaurant in Foster City. Plankman George Fanucchi, well known on the local nitery circuit, has created his own Italian version of the zesty drink. Called ''Italian Margarita,'' it's a blend of Galliano and Tuaca. Salute, amigos!

Miss Pacifica Winner Named

Pam Harris, 18, a student at Skyline College, won the title of Miss Pacifica Saturday and the top prize of an $800 scholarship.

Jayne Yancey, 18, a senior at Terra Nova High School was chosen first runner-up. Patty Ann Feeney, 18, who is employed by Pacific Telephone, was selected as second runner-up.

Miss Harris, who was sponsored by the Linda Mar Shopping Center, was the only one of the six contestants who had previously competed in the contest. She was third runner-up in the Miss Pacifica pageant last year. No third runner-up was chosen this year.

Miss Harris was selected after judges conducted private interviews with the young women, watched them perform talent routines and viewed them in both swimsuits and evening gowns.

During the talent competition, Miss Harris twirled a baton. The non-finalist talent award of $75 went to Maia Fuller, 17, a senior at Terra Nova High School, who sang ''You Light Up My Life.''

Kathleen Finch, 17, a student at Skyline College, was chosen by the contestants as ''Miss Congeniality'' and won $25.

Miss Feeney won a $100 bond for selling the most tickets to the pageant.

As first runner-up, Miss Yancey won a $400 scholarship. Miss Feeney won a $250 scholarship as second runner-up.

This was the first year that the Miss Pacifica pageant was not run by the Pacifica Chamber of Commerce. When the chamber pulled out, a group of 78 residents formed the Miss Pacifica Pageant Scholarship Association to carry on the event.

Attorneys Ballot On Judge

Allan J. Bollhoffer outscored Nick Elchinoff, 219 to 102, in a plebiscite of attorneys for the Superior Court seat being vacated by Judge James T. O'Keefe.

Bollhoffer, commissioner of domestic relations, and Elchinoff, an attorney in South San Franciso, are the only two candidates in the June 6 election. The winner assumes office Jan. 2, 1979.

''The opinion poll of the members of the San Mateo County Bar Association, through the plebiscite, is offered for whatever assistance it may provide the public,'' said Ramon S. Lelli, executive director of the bar association.

Leave Policy Revised

Employees of the Laguna Salada Union School District can take time off work to tend to family medical problems, according to a policy unanimously approved by the board of trustees.

Trustees agreed after debating for half an hour late last week that employees may leave work to deal with alcohol, drug abuse and emotional disorders which are treatable.

Assistant Superintendent Marvin Morganti explained later that the board ''is really just putting on paper what we have done informally all along.''

Trustee John Plato initially opposed the plan, saying he didn't believe the district should grant sick leave to people who aren't sick. Although he said he would go to great lengths to see that district employees are helped, Plato remarked that he feared abuse of public funds might result from the policy.

Trustee Curtiss Landers said he thought it was time for the district to formalize what already is being done.

In other action, the board:

• Accepted a $173,665.50 bid from Rudolph J. Scholz Jr., for the purchase of three parcels of land in Fairmont near Imperial Drive.

The land originally was intended for use as a school site. The bid will be accepted within five days unless its former owner exercises his right to purchase the land.

• Set Terra Nova Boulevard as the boundary between Oddstad and Sanchez schools and Linda Mar Boulevard as the dividing line between Linda Mar and Cabrillo schools.

• Voted themselves a salary increase of about $12 per month.

• Received the second phase of the general fund budget for next year, estimated at $9.57 million, up $3,609 from the current year.

• Asked that reports on the interior and exterior conditions of all schools be made.

Le Pacini

When writing about Jefferson High's magnificent badminton team recently I mentioned, almost in passing, that the team was continuing its five-year domination of the North Peninsula League with a new coach just out of college, Theresa Ribera.

What I didn't mention is that Theresa is another of THOSE Riberas — one of the eight children of Ernie Ribera, a JUHSD assistant superintendent who insists on perpetuating the family name in the North County via the athletic fields.

The emergence of Theresa into the local athletic scene may not make her perpetually young (in mind) father feel any older, but it does me. I remember Theresa as one of the then-five Ribera babies for whom Ernie used to cook outdoor breakfast in his sunny San Bruno patio when he was an assistant principal at Terra Nova in 1960. In those days he didn't have to report to work until noon time, because the new Terra Nova was on a split schedule with Westmoor, using the Daly City building while TN was being constructed down the coast. Actually, Terra Nova was then Oceana — the Oceana Seahawks. That faculty and administration became Terra Novans the next year when, for some reason, the Terra Nova campus was completed ahead of schedule, while the Oceana campus, which was supposed to be the first high school in Pacifica, was delayed. That was ironic, because when Oceana finally opened, Ernie became an Oceana man: That school's first principal.

Ernie, then in his late 30s, always did things like getting up early to fix breakfast for the whole gang, which was one of the least things he did to make the rest of us feel old. He was jogging — no, running — before it became a fad.

The old track, soccer and football star from Washington High in San Francisco and San Mateo JC and San Jose State never forgot those 440, 880 and miles he used to run, nor did he let his charges forget them during his 12-year career as a track coach at Jefferson and Westmoor. Ernie used to show the kids how by competing with them in practice and running them into the ground. Being whipped by a balding "old man" used to ensure that Ribera's guys always maintained their humility, as well as a burning desire to take their embarrassment out on the next opponent.

Ribera's wont to turn out winning high school runners didn't cease when he went off duty, and so for years Ernie has been seeding the county-side with Running Riberas, starting with perhaps the greatest of them all, 24-year-old Ernie, Jr.

Young Ernie, who is completing his third year of medical school at Michigan State, played four years of basketball at Oceana and two years of football at the frosh-soph level (like his father, he was a quarterback), but it was as a runner that he made his mark, leading the Sharks to NPL cross-country titles in his junior and senior years.

Ernie's best event was considered to be the mile, and in fact, after he ran a best 4.23 in his junior year and appeared to be making great strides as a half-miler, there were those who thought that he might have the talent to develop eventually into a world class miler or half-miler. But between his junior and senior years he had developed such severe cases of phlebitis that both legs required surgery, and Ernie was never quite the same again, although he did run an outstanding 1:57.5 half-mile on gimpy legs as a senior and later was good enough to run the mile for Notre Dame for three years, with a best of 4:17.

Theresa, a year younger than Ernie, is also an Oceana grad. She was a cheerleader before Title IX gave females equal opportunity to compete in interscholastic sports. She attended USF as a freshman, then transferred to Skyline College when the Ribera money well began to run dry. Had she been at USF in the current era she probably would have garnered a basketball scholarship, because she became an outstanding basketball player at San Jose State, where she majored in physical education, not to mention the fact that she and her boyfriend at that time were the school's mixed badminton champs.

Jimmy, a year younger than Theresa, played four years of basketball at Oceana, ran track and cross-country for four years for the Sharks, and even put in a season as a varsity golfer. In his junior and senior years he led Oceana to Central Coast Section cross country championships in the small school division. In track, he ran the half mile and the high and low hurdles.

At Annapolis, where he was an International Relations major, he won four letters in track, running the half mile (a 1:54.5 was his best) on the two-mile relay team, and doing the 440 intermediate hurdles (a best of :53 flat). In his junior year, Navy won the Penn Relays, and he was a key figure in the victory.

Billy is a 17-year-old senior at Carlmont where he just recently ran a Central Coast Section best of 38.1 330 low hurdles. He's also done a 14.6 120 high hurdles, a 49.3 440 and anchors the 440 and mile relay teams, which have hung up some of the best times in the Central Coast Section this year.

Though concentrating on track at Carlmont, Billy was a fine basketball player at Oceana for three years, before his family moved out of the district.

Ernie, Sr. says that daughters Carol, 21, and Marilyn, 20 — though they have done little official competing — are both "fast as hell," and could have been outstanding lady tracksters had they so chosen.

Both are Oceana grads and former Shark cheerleaders. Carol attended Notre Dame as a freshman and got her elementary education degree from San Jose State. Marilyn is a junior at Long Beach State, majoring in fashion merchandizing.

Nancy, a soph at Carlmont, is, says Ernie, a fine athlete who at this point is not interested in sports, which, he concedes, is a rarity for a Ribera.

Johnny, the last of the Ribera kids (for now), is in the seventh grade at Ralston Intermediate School in Belmont and, says Ernie, "I can't find a sport he hasn't tried."

Unfortunately, notes Ernie, Sr., he can't take full credit for the athletic Ribera clan, and, in fact, "I can claim only half of it, at best."

Shirley Ribera, without whose cooperation Ernie could never have stocked the Coastside with the Running Riberas, "never lost a picnic race as a kid," and and is the daughter of Jervis Foley, a great amateur golfer and tennis player; and the niece of Vic Foley, a professional fighter, who was the lightweight boxing champ of Canada. Foley fought the great Tony Canzoneri to a tough 10-round losing decision just four months after Canzoneri had won the world featherweight crown. Canzoneri, of course, later went on to win the world lightweight and junior welterweight titles, and is in the Boxing Hall of Fame.

With that bloodline, and the apparent virility of the Ribera family, there may be Riberas running right into the 21st century.

Cavalier 2nd In Tourney

Cavalier Motel of South San Francisco finished second in the Aloha Classic Invitational fast-pitch softball tournament which concluded Sunday in Redwood City.

The LeBlanc Barons of Sunnyvale beat Cavalier Motel 8-6 in the championship game. The Barons will be joining the three host teams, San Mateo Lions, Peninsula Suns and Redwood City Kings, on a trip to Hawaii June 29-July 6.

All four other local teams went unplaced.

Dolphins Win in Pacifica

Seventeen members of the Daly City Dolphins recently competed in the Pacifica Sea Lions match, with eight swimmers receiving ribbons and A medals being earned by John Murray in the 11-12 year old, 50-yard freestyle (31.0 seconds) and by Ariel Austria in the 13-14-year-old, 200-yard breaststrokes (with a time of 2:46.2 minutes).

Matthew Foge, age 7, placed fifth in the 50-yard breaststroke and fourth in the 25-yard freestyle. Ariel Austria placed 7th in the 200-yard backstroke.

The Lamsam girls brought home three ribbons with Ruth and Grace tying for third in the 100 breaststroke and Esther taking a seventh in the 100 breaststroke.

Rich Segol captured six ribbons with places of second in the 400 intermediate medley, eighth in the 200-yard breaststroke, sixth in the 200 backstroke, third in the 100 breaststroke, fourth in the 200-yard butterfly and a sixth in the 200-yard freestyle.

Other Dolphins participating included Marco Madriz, Annette Segol, Susan Maddox, Gigi Bipes, Davis Rush, Maureen Kilkeary, Tim and Maureen Carey and Dan and Valerie Sakurai.

Officials Receive AAU Cards

Receiving Amateur Athletic Union officials' cards at the recent on deck and administration sections were 12 members of the Daly City Dolphins parents' club.

Mmes. Lynn Bipes, Carla Beedle, Cherie Foge and Marion Carey received officials cards in administration in the clinic which was chaired by John Pennington, officials officer of Zone 1 North, Pacific AAU.

Pool-side instruction, given by Ed Warner, referee of many local meets, was received by parent club president Terry DeMartini, Donna Rhoades, Roz Morino, Margaret Brunell, Jim Morino, Darren and Norm Foge and Doug Dawkins, Sr.

These new officials were accepted at trainee status and may upgrade their own cards by officiating at area swim meets.

Dolphins To Have Bake Sale

The Daly City Dolphins Aquatics Club will have a bake sale April 29 in the community services booth at Tanforan Shopping Center.

The booth will be open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and will feature cakes, pies, breads, pastries, cookies and cupcakes.

All proceeds will benefit the Daly City Dolphins, who raised half of their yearly budget from the recent Dolph-a-thon swim marathon.

Parents and friends may bring wrapped goods to the home of Mrs. Babin, 134 Edgemont Drive, Daly City, across from Westmoor High School, Friday evening or Saturday by 9 a.m.

Hunch League Starts Again

The Daly City Recreation Department will sponsor another adult three-man hunch league, scheduled to begin May 17. All games will be played Wednesday evenings at the Westlake Community Center, 145 Lake Merced Blvd., Daly City.

There will be two divisions: Six Feet and Under and the Open Division. Daly City resident teams will be given priority over non-resident teams. Deadline for signups is May 5 at 5 p.m. For further information, contact Joe Anibale at the Westlake Community Center, 992-1894.

Regents Close to Title

Serramonte High zeroed in on an unprecedented fourth straight North Peninsula League track title Thursday by downing visiting South San Francisco 85-47.

Serramonte, which has won 32 straight NPL dual-meets, got stellar performances from hurdle Chico Lewis. Lewis won the highs in a quick 15.0, considering track conditions, the lows in 39.0 and the high jump, with a leap of 6-0.

Russ Pinomaki scored double victories for Serramonte in the discus and shot put.

In other meets, Terra Nova crushed visiting Half Moon Bay 100-36, Oceana edged El Camino 71-55, and Westmoor clipped Jefferson 77-43.

Randy Peterson sparkled in Terra Nova's win. Peterson won the high jump, the 440, the 220 and anchored the victorious mile relay team. Randy's sophomore brother Alan captured the 880 and mile.

Art Koplowitz had double wins in the long and triple jumps for Westmoor.

Girls' Team Star Outshines Boys In Races at Oceana

Oceana High's Elaine Parker sped to a 10.7 clocking in the 100-yard dash Thursday — not only winning the race but recording a faster time than the winner of the 100 in the concurrent boys' meet on the Shark track.

Parker, who has run a wind-aided 10.5 and a legitimate 10.7 in other competition this year, is competing for a high school for the first time — before this year, because of rule conflicts, she stuck to AAU competition with the Millbrae Lions.

El Camino beat Oceana 52-36, Terra Nova dumped Half Moon Bay 87-61 and South City nipped Serramonte 39-37 in Thursday's North Peninsula League girls track action.

In the feature race of the afternoon, the 220, Parker whipped previously undefeated Kim Costello of El Camino. Costello made amends by capturing the long and high jumps.

Debbie Arana won the 100 yard dash, the 110 high hurdles, the high jump and anchored the 440 relay team in Terra Nova's win.

Mike Diaz

North County's Best

By JOHN MURPHY

The championship game of the recent Daly City Invitational baseball tournament probably meant a great deal to Terra Nova High's Mike Diaz.

Both teams (Riordan and Terra Nova) wanted to win badly. Riordan was gunning for its third consecutive DC Invitational title while Terra Nova was trying to preserve a perfect non-league record.

Diaz might have felt added pressure because he had attended St. Ignatius (Riordan's main rival) for two years and knew most of the Riordan players personally.

But if Diaz had a case of nerves in this game, he was doing a good job disguising it.

Diaz is a good friend of Riordan pitcher Joe Coggan, and when Coggan threw a few pitches in the dirt late in the game, Diaz tossed a verbal dart at him, "Oh yeah! . . . Better move that plate up a couple of feet."

Coggan gave his friendly foe a sideways glance and then couldn't help cracking a smile before this next pitch.

"Rabbit ears," yelled Diaz. "Look at the antennas on that guy."

Diaz continued his good-natured barrage throughout the remainder of the inning and seemed delighted that he was able to break his friend's concentration.

No, Diaz wasn't nervous about playing against his old West Catholic Athletic League adversaries. (Terra Nova won, by the way, 2-1.)

In fact Diaz, described as a carefree sort by some observers, doesn't seem to get rattled by much of anything.

"He's a real free spirit," says Terra Nova football coach Bob Lotti. "He's loose. Not careless or anything like that. It's just that things don't get Mike down that easily."

Carefree, flakey . . . call Diaz what you like. But by all means, call him the best athlete in the North Peninsula League. The 6-2, 190 pound senior has certainly earned that distinction.

As a football quarterback Diaz led the County in passing and total offense. He was named NPL "Back of the Year," All-County, All-Bay Area and All-American. Mike also started as a monster back on Terra Nova's defensive unit.

Mike Diaz

Last spring, after transferring from St. Ignatius to Terra Nova, Diaz pitched and played third base for the baseball team and hit .389. For that, he earned All-NPL and All-County honors.

Diaz' weakest sport is basketball. But he was good enough to earn a starting position on this year's team, and was selected by first-year coach Gary Johnson as team captain.

The three-sport standout recently signed a letter of intent to play football at Weber State in Utah, which he will do if he doesn't sign a pro baseball contract in the meantime.

The major league free agent draft is in June, and if Diaz gets the right kind of offer he will kiss the Big Sky Conference (in which Weber St. participates) good-bye.

However, if Mike does elect to attend college, he will still be able to keep his baseball hopes alive by playing semi-pro ball in the summer (Weber St. doesn't have a baseball program).

"When you talk about what his best sport is, it really depends on how you look at it," commented Terra Nova baseball coach Marty Coil. "As far as college goes, I'd say his best sport will be football.

New Indoor Soccer Loop

A San Francisco team, probably based at the Cow Palace, will play in the newly formed Indoor Super Soccer League, it was announced Thurday.

The as-yet unnamed club will compete against at least 11 other teams in Los Angeles, Seattle, New York, New Jersey, New England, Washington, Cincinnati, Miami, Birmingham, Toronto and Louisiana. The teams will play 28 games beginning sometime in July.

"We're trying to make it an American league with a sprinkling of international players," said Southern California businessman Richard Steckler, one of the San Francisco club's backers. "We even wouldn't be too concerned if none of them (the foreign players) come."

The North American Soccer League tried indoor play a few years back but the injury rate on hard artificial surfaces was higher than on outdoor fields. An advantage is a better offensive show with up to 20 goals in some indoor games.

Train Rams Car in SSF

One man was hospitalized with facial injuries when a car slammed to a quick stop on the railroad tracks on Grand Avenue in South San Francisco early Saturday, but all three riders got out safely before a freight train swept the vehicle down the tracks, according to authorities.

Dianne Giselle, 20, 310 Gardenside Ave., South San Francisco, the driver, told police she had turned westbound on Grand from the Bayshore Freeway offramp and waited for the railroad crossing arms to lift, but decided to drive across the tracks off the pavement when she determined the arms weren't working, according to reports.

The car stopped abruptly on the tracks, injuring her and Timothy Duca, 21, 275 Evergreen Ave., South San Francisco, slightly, but sending Jerry Sandovall, 24, 310 Gardenside, to Peninsula Hospital with facial lacerations after he had struck the windshield.

Union Leaders End Jeff 'Wait-in'

By NANCY STANCILL

Four Jefferson Union High School District teacher union leaders ended a five-day "wait-in" at the district offices late Friday after a four-hour contract-negotiating session with district officials.

Marcy Ballard, president of Local 1481, American Federation of Teachers, said the Friday meeting produced "movement" on a key contract issue.

She said that as a result of the progress, the four negotiating team members decided to pack up their sleeping bags and leave the district offices.

Mrs. Ballard, along with AFT leaders Jackie Yokote, Judy Reagan and Bill Curran, had maintained a round-the-clock vigil at the district offices since Sunday morning.

The four teachers packed up their gear Thursday morning and moved from Assistant Superintendent Robert Watt's office to Superintendent Floyd Gonella's quarters at the district offices in Daly City's Westlake Shopping Center.

Mrs. Ballard said the AFT team sat in "complete silence" with Gonella in his office before the district officials agreed to set up additional negotiating sessions Friday and Saturday.

She said the session resulted in the district's tentative agreement to institute procedures that would require declining-enrollment layoffs to affect teachers with the least seniority.

The AFT local president said that although some progress was made in other issues, the mediator probably will declare today that the two parties should go to fact-finding procedures. The AFT declared an impasse with the district 15 days ago.

Fact finding, which will involve an analysis of the issues, binding arbitration and teacher salaries, would take several weeks, she said.

Mrs. Ballard said she believed the "wait-in" accomplished the AFT goal of obtaining intensive negotiating sessions.

Strike at Kaiser Is Ended

Some 400 striking medical technologists of 17 Bay Area Kaiser Hospitals, including facilities in Redwood City and South San Francisco, went back to work Monday.

The strikers overwhelmingly approved a new two-year wage package that provides a 14 percent salary increase, at a meeting Thursday in San Francisco.

The package also gives technologists increased pension, sick leave and vacation benefits and a 3 percent salary adjustment in the second year to be applied by their labor union, the Marine Engineers Beneficial Association.

Kaiser technologists conduct diagnostic and laboratory tests, analyze tissues and assist in autopsies.

The workers walked off their jobs three weeks ago, when negotiations to renew a contract that expired March 1 stalled.

Under the old contract, a Kaiser technologist's salary ranged from $1,339 to $1,798 a month.

Laguna Salada Board Fires 23-Year Teacher

A teacher who taught in the Laguna Salada Elementary School District for 23 years is scheduled to be dismissed today on the basis of incompetency.

The board of trustees decided to fire Gus Eliopoulos Thursday night, based on the findings of a competency hearing panel which heard the case in January and handed dowm a decison Wednesday.

Composed of a judge from the state Office of Administrative Hearing, a district representative and a person representing Eliopoulos, the Commission on Professional Competence found that:

• Eliopoulos failed to maintain order, discipline and control of his pupils to the extent that the learning process was impaired.

• Eliopoulos did not effectively organize, structure and conduct his classroom instruction periods to ensure the maximum time available was fully utilized.

Asked this morning whether he was aware of the findings of the competency hearing panel, Eliopoulos said, "I don't know anything about it." He said he had received no communications from the district and did not wish to comment on the matter.

Eliopoulos was teaching fourth-graders at Sharp Park School in Pacifica when the district initiated action against him. He has been out of the classroom, working in the district's instructional materials center, since June 1977.

He was not recommended for re-employment with the district in June 1976. Although legal procedures against him began in March 1977, the competency hearing was postponed until early this year.

Dr. Lucille Foster, director of personnel for the district, said Laguna Salada never before had completed a competency hearing involving a teacher. "The teacher always quit first," she said.

The competency hearing panel cited numerous examples of difficulties Eliopoulos apparently had in keeping his classes in control and instructing pupils during 1975 and 1976, when he taught at two schools in the district.

The panel noted that Eliopoulos seemed to be unaware of most of the problems.

While he taught fourth grade at Pedro Valley School during 1975-76, the panel found:

• Two instances of pupils leaving his classroom without his knowledge or permission.

• A mother complained that her son, supposedly at school, called her at work from the family home following an alleged altercation with another pupil. Eliopoulos was unaware off the incident or that the child was missing.

• Eliopoulos failed to report for his assigned yard duty.

• In violation of school rules, he repeatedly barred entry to his classroom.

• The school principal, Douglas Morgan, on at least 20 occasions between March 25 and June 3, 1976 "observed that respondent (Eliopoulos) failed to control classroom behavior and discipline of his students, in that on each such occasion, Morgan saw spitwads, pins, sunflower seeds, clay wads, broken crayons and pencils, gum wrappers, and other such items on the floor."

• Eliopoulos failed to return overdue materials despite having received nine reminder notes.

• On March 15, 1976, a custodian reported that students in Eliopoulos' room had jammed colored paper in a projector causing it to overheat, then played with the projector. "When a pupil spat on the hot projector bulb, it exploded and had to be replaced," the decision reads.

As a result of these and other incidents, the panel established that Morgan received seven requests from parents of students in the teacher's class that their children be transferred to other classrooms. Four were transferred.

The panel said Eliopoulos was informed of his inadequacies at least 96 times between Sept. 23, 1975 and June 1, 1976.

After Eliopoulos received his final evaluation for the school year on June 9, 1976, in which Morgan recommended against re-employment by the district, Eliopoulos requested a transfer to another school.

In his new assignment as a fourth grade teacher at Sharp Park School, the panel reported:

• There were complaints that during recess periods Eliopoulos did not keep his students in their assigned area of the school yard.

• On several occasions, the school principal, Alberta Freitas, observed little instruction taking place in his classroom.

One incident she related reportedly occurred Nov. 23, 1976, when Mrs. Freitas sat in on a mathematics class in Eliopoulos' room for 30 minutes.

The decision read: "(Mrs.) Freitas observed that respondent had badly underplanned the lesson activity for this class in that, at the start of the lesson, 13 children were working at the assigned lesson, three were playing with clay, two were making a folder, two reading a magazine and one child was doing nothing. Fifteen minutes later, only eight pupils were working on the lesson, the two others were still playing with clay, while eight walked around the room talking and three did nothing. There was no intervention by respondent while this action continued, despite the presence of his principal in the room."

• Mrs. Freitas informed Eliopoulos at least 24 times between Sept. 7 and Dec. 10, 1976 that his performance was unsatisfactory.

After listing these findings, the competency hearing panel ordered that Eliopoulos be dismissed immediately.

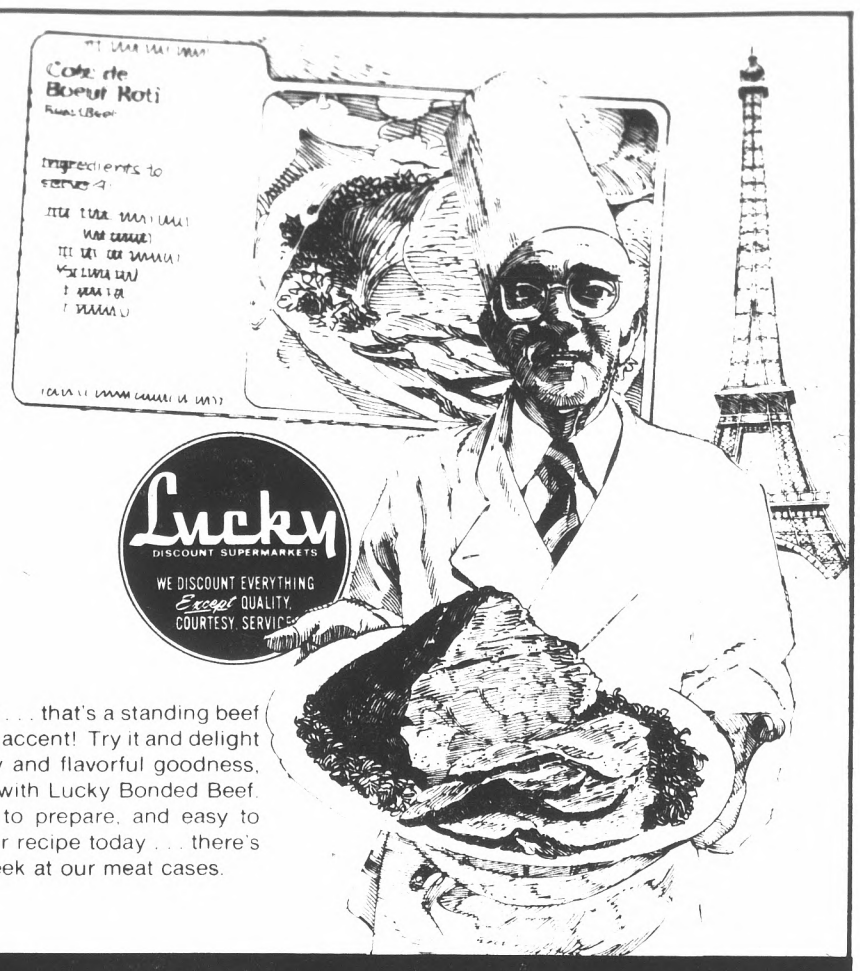
for the beef that meets the standards of the Cordon Bleu.



Our meat buyers have always known Lucky Bonded Beef was exceptional because they selected it according to their own critical standards. And when we had our beef compared with the standards of the world's most famous cooking school, Le Cordon Bleu in Paris, the buyers were pleased but not surprised.

We shipped Lucky Bonded Beef to Le Cordon Bleu cooking school. For three days they roasted, stewed, boiled and pan-fried. They put Lucky Bonded Beef through its paces. When the Chef finally emerged from the kitchens, he became so enthusiastic, he helped develop a dozen recipes just for us!

Cote de Boeuf Roti . . . that's a standing beef roast with a French accent! Try it and delight in the tender, juicy and flavorful goodness, because you start with Lucky Bonded Beef. You'll find it easy to prepare, and easy to serve. Pick up your recipe today . . . there's a new one each week at our meat cases.

Quiche Lorraine

Corn Lorraine and Tuna Quiche are easy to prepare in the Alsatian tradition of cheese and bacon custard pie. This classic Quiche Lorraine is rather different. The following recipes can be served as the main course for lunch or supper, or as the first course for a special dinner.

1 9-inch unbaked pastry shell
8 slices bacon, cooked and crumbled
1½ cups grated Swiss cheese
3 eggs, beaten
1 cup half and half
½ cup milk
¼ tsp. dry mustard
¼ tsp. salt
¼ tsp. pepper
Dash cayenne
1½ Tbsp. margarine or butter

Prick sides and bottom of pastry shell; bake at 450° F. 8 to 10 minutes. Sprinkle bacon and 1 cup cheese in pastry shell. Blend eggs with half and half, milk, mustard, salt, pepper and cayenne. Pour over bacon and cheese. Sprinkle with remaining cheese. Dot with margarine. Bake at 375° F. 30 minutes or until knife inserted in center comes out clean. Cool 10 minutes before cutting. 6 to 8 servings

Tuna Quiche

1 9-inch unbaked pastry shell
2 eggs, beaten
1 cup half and half
1 Tbsp. instant minced onion
1 tsp. Dijon mustard
¾ tsp. salt
Dash cayenne
1 can (6½ or 7 oz.) Tuna, drained and flaked
1½ cups (6 oz.) shredded Swiss cheese
1 Tbsp. flour
Dash nutmeg

Prick sides and bottom of pastry shell; bake at 450° F. 5 to 10 minutes. Blend eggs with half and half, onion, mustard, salt and cayenne. In separate bowl, combine tuna, cheese and flour; sprinkle evenly in pastry shell. Pour cream mixture over tuna and cheese. Sprinkle with nutmeg. Bake at 325° F. 50 minutes or until knife inserted in center comes out clean. Cool 10 minutes before cutting. 6 to 8 servings

Corn Lorraine

1 9-inch unbaked pastry shell
7 slices bacon
1 cup chopped onion
1 cup shredded Swiss cheese
1 Tbsp. flour
3 eggs, slightly beaten
1 can (17 oz.) Cream Style Golden Sweet Corn
½ cup evaporated milk
Dash fresh-ground pepper
Dash cayenne

Prick sides and bottom of pastry shell. Bake at 450° F. 8 minutes. Cook bacon until crisp. Remove from skillet, drain and crumble. Sauté onion in 1 tablespoon bacon drippings until tender. Toss crumbled bacon and cheese with flour; sprinkle evenly in pastry shell. Blend eggs with onion, corn, evaporated milk, pepper and cayenne. Pour over bacon and cheese. Bake at 350° F. 50 minutes or until knife inserted in center comes out clean. Garnish with two additional slices of crisply cooked bacon, if desired. Cool 10 minutes before cutting. 6 to 8 servings

SERVICES FOR THE HANDICAPPED
Jean Wofford, project director, discusses some of the 1,200 services available for handicapped persons.

By BILL HURSCHMANN

There are some 1,200 services for handicapped persons in San Mateo County, but the average family of a handicapped individual isn't aware of them.

To make those families aware, the San Mateo County Office of Education has established a Direction Service Model as part of the implementation of the Aid to All Handicapped Children Act, federal legislation passed in 1975.

The model, one of only 25 in the United States and two in California, is located at the San Bruno Park School District office, 500 Acacia Ave. It serves all 23 school districts in San Mateo County.

"We're a link," explains project director Jean Wofford. "With all those gaps out there, we're trying to provide direction to families in need and to help them through the maze of bureaucracy. We want to let them know the services that are out there in the county."

Del Green Associates, Foster City, applied and received the three-year grant to provide the model program. Funding for the first eight months was $93,000.

Grant money became available Oct. 1, and the San Bruno center, with its home-like atmosphere in a former kindergarten classroom, opened Jan. 1.

It services handicapped persons from birth to age 21. To qualify, a person must be either mentally retarded, hard of hearing, deaf, speech impaired, virtually handicapped, seriously emotionally disturbed, orthopedically impaired, health impaired or have specific learning disabilities.

"Our model is to assist the community and all school district personnel in the county to match existing services to the needs of handicapped persons," Ms. Wofford explains.

She and her staff have developed a resource bank of the 1,200 services available for handicapped persons. Some of these include the Developmentally Disabilities Council, the Easter Seal Society, mental health services, vocational rehabilitation services and physical and occupational therapy.

Referrals to the center, which is open Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., can be made by anyone living in San Mateo County. The service is free to all residents.

"Clients usually are referred to us by a school district, or they've heard of us through some source and walk through the door," says Ms. Wofford. "We find many of them to be lost in the system and frustrated. They are fed up with the system. We do a complete evaluation and tell them which services in the county are available, and then make an appointment for them with their selected program."

These are the more difficult and time-consuming cases. The model now handles about 135 telephone calls a month — calls with questions which can be answered over the telephone. There currently are about 46 active cases, which require case studies and follow-ups.

Although she can't support it with statistics, Ms. Wofford says she believes there are about 36,000 persons under 21 in San Mateo County who have handicaps and are either not being served or being underserved.

Ms. Wofford's staff of three full-time persons, plus one full-time volunteer, has expertise in special areas, which allows the model to accommodate all. Mary Ann Newcomb, site coordinator, is a specialist in the area of a typical infant; John Chavez, resource service specialist, is a bilingual Early Childhood Education specialist; Poppy Rawley, executive secretary, is from Tonga and speaks four languages; and volunteer Pearl Moore, Ms. Wofford says, "probably knows more about the services available in San Mateo County than any of the paid staff."

The project director says the North County seems to be well aware of the services offered, but such isn't the case in the South County. To cure that, she is working with the Ravenswood School District in East Palo Alto to establish an outreach center there.

Pacifica to Improve Sewage Plant

The Pacifica City Council voted 4-1 Monday night to approve three contract supplements for the ctiy's secondary sewage treatment plant.

The most expensive change, at $23,339, will be to install a manual transfer switch for two power generators that could operate the plant during a power failure.

The other two changes, costing a total of $5,387, are to install explosion-proof housings on damper motors and to extend rubber hose supports on top of the secondary digestor.

Albert St. Cyr, director of Community Development and Services, reported that the state may reimburse Pacifica for the two least expensive changes, but said state funding of the third appears "doubtful."

He added that the council must approve the change orders before the state will consider funding them.

In explaining her "no" vote on the motion, Mrs. McGuire said that she has no expertise in the field and has to rely on the state engineers.

"I feel if something's critical to the operation (of the plant), they would fund it," she said.

Councilman Stanley Farber replied, "I wish that was true." He had said earlier in a study session before the meeting, "It seems absolutely asinine to me that somebody would design a plant and not hook up these two generators together."

Farber proposed putting the firm that engineered the plant, Consoer-Townsend Associates, on notice that the city will try to retrieve the cost of the change orders from that company if the state won't pick up the tab.

In other business, the council:

• Voted to approve private, rather than public, ownership of Ox Mountain, a site near Half Moon Bay where the county disposes of solid waste.

• Over the objections of some residents who live near the proposed location, certified a negative environmental impact declaration and introduced an ordinance that would make it possible for a skateboard rink to be built at 610 Crespi Drive.

• Accepted with regret the resignation of Planning Commissioner James Harrison, who said his business commitments outside the area make it too difficult to attend meetings. In searching for a new commissioner, Mayor Nick Gust said, it would be desirable to have a person with some knowledge of architecture on the commission.

• Presented a resolution of commendation to Councilman Mark Savage for his contributions to the community while working as director of the Pacifica Youth Service Bureau.

YOUNG MASTERS
Some of the youngsters who attend the South San Francisco Children's Center on the Ponderosa School campus display their artwork, which was the subject of a show at the center last week. Those displaying their creations are Debbie Tisdale, 4, top, Jan Reedy, 5, center, and Tina Lowder, 5, below. The art show was part of the center's activities during the "Week of the Young Child."

Ryan Criticized For News Leaks

Rep. Leo J. Ryan, D-San Mateo, has been the subject of a vote of "disapproval" by his fellow Democrats on the House Committee on Government Operations for his premature release of a committee report critical of government planning for disposal of nuclear waste.

Ryan earlier this month released a draft of the uncompleted report without the express approval of the committee, which is customary. The committee had approved the draft report by a 24-14 vote.

Ryan said at the time he decided to release the draft because Republican members of the committee had been leaking portions of the report to the news media.

"The GOP was sore because I was fighting back with their own tools," Ryan said today.

Republican members of the committee complained to the Democratic members, caucused last week to vote the disapproval of Ryan's action.

"It wasn't pleasant," Ryan admitted.

However, he termed the disapproval vote as "mildly critical," reporting that the adjective "strongly" before the word "disapprove" was deleted in the minutes of the caucus action.

Roarty Joins D.C. Dolphins

The newest member of the Daly City Dolphins Aquatics Club, the Department of Recreation sponsored local swim team, is John Roarty, son of Patrick and Ellen Roarty of Colma.

Swim team tryouts are Monday through Friday at 5 p.m. at the Westmoor High School pool. Requirements are twice the length of the pool using any stroke.

Coach Chip Zimmerman would like to meet one parent on tryout day. There is no minimum age to join.

A Times' Classifed Advertising "Success Story."

Susan Santos had 5 too many Poodle puppies so she placed a Classified Ad in The Times and Amphlett Printing Company's weekly "results getting" newspapers. Her advertising message was delivered to over 150,000 San Mateo County homes.

The response was "Great." The results were "Fantastic." She sold all five puppies in the first three days. Susan's reply was "I could have sold 5 more puppies. Thank you, Times."

If you have any items or services that would be saleable with a Classified Ad, do as Susan Santos did, call The Times' Classified Advertising Department and place a results getting ad. The next Times' Classified Advertising "Success Story" may be yours.

ACCEPTABILITY: The Times reserves the right to reject, censor and properly classify any advertisement.

THE FIRST WORD of each 8 point type ad will be spelled out. Abbreviations will be accepted on the first word in 12 point or larger type lines. However, any ad that does not begin with an alphabetical character will not be in alphabetical sequence.

DEADLINE: Classified advertising must be placed by 3:00 p.m. day preceding publication, Monday through Friday, 12 noon Saturday for Monday's publication and 48 hours preceding holidays.

CANCELLATION: Cancellation orders must be received before 3:00 p.m. on the day preceding publication for all line advertisements appearing in The Times from Tuesday through Saturday and before 12 noon Saturday for Monday's publication. Display Classified must be cancelled in writing 48 hours prior to publication date.

ERRORS: No responsibility is assumed by publisher for errors in any advertisement covered by order, nor for the omission of any advertisement in whole or in part, nor for failure to comply with the placement of advertising as ordered either as to frequency or volume. In no event shall publisher be liable for special damages or consequential damages even if it has been notified of the possibility of such damages.

Errors in published advertisements must be reported immediately; and if done, publisher will publish an appropriate correction and where publisher deems it necessary a rerun of the advertisement as corrected, if in publisher's judgment the error substantially varies the meaning of the advertisement as ordered. Such corrections will be made only as to those advertisements which are ordered for one insertion, and as to the first insertion only when ordered for more than one insertion

WOODSIDE

It's spring in Woodside — green hills — wild flowers — land, trees and horses — come let Woodside's oldest real estate firm show you the homes we have listed.

★ Country Cottage on 3 Acres $235,000

SECLUDED THREE-ACRE BUILDING SITE carved from an old estate. Lovely trees. One bedroom country cottage and other out buildings. An ideal foundation for your country estate. Eves. . . . 851-1361.

★ Country Melody $236,000

SECLUDED UNDER BIG TREES, with sunny decks and views that never stop—a true horseman's retreat which sings its own kind of music. Huge friendly rec. room, big cheery kitchen with fam. rm. or din. rm., 3 or 4 BRs, 3 baths. Old brick fireplaces and beamy ceilings add a country air! Excellent horse facilities include 2-stall barn, corrals. Eves. . . . 851-1361.

★ House of Tomorrow $248,000

★ Bridge Trek $249,990

CROSS A PRIVATE BRIDGE to enter the tranquil world of this creekside contemporary. It's all yours — fabulous far-reaching views from picture windows and decks, high beamed ceilings, 5 BRs, 2½ baths, dining room, family/kitchen. Professionally landscaped gardens blend with redwood forest. Horse facilities!! Eves. . . . 851-7688.

★ Horse-Lovers Spectacular $289,000

A VERY SPECIAL PLACE TO BE! In prime horse country adjacent to Patrol Grounds, Huddert Park, many trails. A lovely contemporary built for family comfort and fun! Fam. rm., din. rm., 3 BRs, 2½ baths. Horse facilities include super barn, hay storage. 1.4 acres lush country. Adjacent 1.7 acre lot w/huge level riding ring avail. Eves. . . . 851-7678.

★ Salute the Sun! $425,000

OPEN AND EXPANSIVE. Tree-studded yet sunny — this woodsy contemporary claims 3.6 acres of Woodside's loveliest horse country! Two fabulous stories, custom designed and built, and elegantly appointed with only the finest! 4 BRs, family/kitchen, big views, and a riding ring in a picture-book setting! Eves. . . . 328-8450.

★ Woodside Estate! $450,000

50 YEARS AGO A PIONEER WOODSIDE FAMILY came upon this hidden 4-acre setting embraced by a creek, level tree-studded land edged by towering redwoods rising to a hilltop with a forever view of the western hills. A road was forged. Outbuildings were built — cottages, kennels, greenhouses — and on the hill a landmark stately two-story country colonial. Somewhat neglected today, this proud piece of history offers an incomparable opportunity: A gracious 5 BR colonial (large entry hall, climbing staircase, wisteria on the balconies — moldings, fireplace in the dining room) plus a separate guest cottage. A stunning pool with cabana/entertainment house in a meadow setting. Here are challenge, history, nostalgia and opportunity calling! Eves. . . . 851-1361.
